(Song of the greedy hospital administrator)

Paul McKenna © 2018

Tune: “Annie’s Song” by John Denver

You fill up my census with lucrative patients,
You”re truly an asset to my bottom line--
Lung and liver transplants, hip and knee replacements.
You fill up my census, now where do I sign?

Come let me pay you, let me write big checks to you,
For expensive procedures and unneeded care,
With exorbitant prices--you’re the cure to our crisis,
Come let me pay you, there’s plenty to spare.

You fill up my census with lucrative patients,
For expensive procedures and unneeded care,
With exorbitant prices--you’re the cure to our crisis,
You fill up my census, now come grab your share.
