Patriotic Meal

Tune: Wabash Cannonball New words: Nancy Schimmel

I got the world on a spoon and I've got nature in my lap When blueberry and strawberry seasons overlap, The taste is just like heaven but the color scheme's the deal Just add organic yogurt, got a patriotic meal.

I'm loyal to my country, to its forests and its lakes,
From the bighorn sheep and polar bears to the frogs and toads and snakes,
The toddlers in the playground, the workers in the field
Who pick the juicy berries in my patriotic meal.

So when the corporations spray pesticides around They should know they're treading on my sacred ground I sing this song to tell them just the way I feel I don't want any poison in my patriotic meal.

I don't want the CO2 that comes from shipping food, Chilean berries do not fit my patriotic mood Nor do I want your Driscolls, till you get that union seal I want local union labor in my patriotic meal.
